

The world view programmed into the majority of the population does not show what supports it. Let's look at what is supporting the "ivory tower".

Clothing - cheap clothes produced by textile industry. Most clothes produced in sweatshop conditions. Workers receive low wages, work long hours, if injured do not get medical care, are economic slaves.

Blissfully ignorant - Does not know what is happening to support their ivory tower and does not want to know because it would completely destroy their comfortable self image as wonderful people. Spends their time watching "American Idol" and happy living in the myth of "we are better". To be better, someone else must be worse. In this case worse off. Worse off is economic slavery, poverty, disease, and death.

Fuel - Oil is the most important resource powering modern society. In all oil producing nations, the local native populations were destroyed and their land stolen so that corporations could extract the oil for profit. Oil is extracted by corporations who, in conjunction with local and foreign governments, channel the profits to the elites, some in the country where the oil is extracted, some foreign. Oil extraction and processing causes massive pollution but this is covered up by the corporate controlled media.

Meat - Most meat comes from commercial farms and processing facilities. Animals are kept in cages, feed antibiotics and a mixture of nutrients and reprocessed animal products. The waste from these farms is pumped unprocessed out into the landscape. When the animals are slaughtered, many times they are not dead and are cut up while still alive and conscious. Workers in this industry are low wage economic slaves. Worker injury rates are high and are not reported.

Electricity - Primarily from coal fired and nuclear plants. Both resources stolen from native peoples. Both producing toxic waste. Coal pollutes the air. Nuclear power creates radioactive pollution and the radioactive waste is used in weapons. I.e. U-238 uranium.

Human Waste - The waste is "processed" in some cases, and is not processed in others. Either way the waste is released into local waterways and into the ocean.

Economic slaves - "Service class" - Conquest of areas by the military and exploitation of locals as cheap labor. Low wage workers are required to produce cheap goods. Servants and slaves have new names like "low wage workers" and "the poor".

Trash - There are billion of tons of garbage produced which is sent to landfills or dumped into the ocean.

Security - The economic slaves are held in bondage by cultural programming, economic slavery, the police, and the military. Keep those who are being exploited out of the ivory tower. Use the military to destroy any country where the people try to create a government that will prevent the elites (via corporations) to steal their resources and exploit the people. Use the police and legal system to control those people whose lives are destroyed by poverty and who degenerate into drug abuse, alcoholism, violence, thievery, prostitution.

Depletion of species - Many species are hunted or harvested or fished to extinction to support this individual's lifestyle. For food in the case of the ocean. For luxury clothing in the case of furs.
